Member comments on Brexit & its impact on Scotland's science & technology sectors...

"This gives us a chance (as a country)... to seek out new opportunities around the world"

"So many valuable and contributing individuals have been left with uncertainties about their future with us"

"I can see no aspect of Brexit that will not be damaging to my company in the medium & long term"

"We participate in global academic collaboration which is really above politics"

"We are totally dependent on our European partners...will hit Scottish technology companies hard"

"I am sure we will eventually regain our position, but I look on Brexit as unnecessary division. The effort should have been spent on improving our own position"
